January 8 - February 5, 2022

Opening Reception: Saturday, January 8, 2-6pm

Mouthed Echoes will explore the borders of life and death and the visions of what comes after. Taking its title from Mina Loy's poem "The Dead," the paintings and sculptures manifest visions of death and its effects. Specifically how it haunts, hunts, and envelops us, and how we mourn, conjure, and remember in the spaces between life and mortality.

Lyles & King will donate 25% of proceeds from Mouthed Echoes to Heart of Dinner. Heart of Dinner exists to combat food insecurity and isolation within New York City's elderly East Asian community.
